Delivering Excellence in Pharmaceutical Product Sourcing & Supply Chain Management

NCC specialises in the sourcing and distribution of chemical raw materials for the pharmaceutical and biopharmaceutical sectors. We connect customers with our global network of trusted chemical manufacturers, providing access to high-quality, compliant and commercially viable speciality chemicals. This is enhanced by our in-house sourcing team, which specialises in the identification, validation and approval of new manufacturers for in-demand materials.

NCC manages customers' end-to-end chemical supply chain requirements beyond sourcing, from sampling through to qualification and commercial implementation, with full transparency throughout the process. These capabilities are reinforced by our strong local infrastructure, which includes global support offices and bulk and hazardous-material warehousing. Together, they enable NCC to support new drug commercialisation and scale-up while helping customers maintain secure, resilient raw material supply chains for established production.
